About me:

I am a Graduate Interior Designer from Solent University who is always willing to learn new things, optimistic, hard working and driven by my desire to positively impact the world and the people living in it! I have a huge love for fantasy and making the impossible possible, tapping into people's inner child and creating whimsical spaces that give people a memorable, once in a lifetime experience.

My Mission:

“I strive to create fun and impactful environments that will raise mental and physical health, by positively impacting the world we live in, sustainably.”

Experience:

I have learnt many skills throughout my life that will be useful in the design industry because of the variety of experiences I have had in different industries. A few examples are working effectively in a team, reaching deadlines, good intuition, and understanding the needs and wants of customers.

Whilst at university I participated in two live projects for PPHE and Morgan Lovell. Where I had to create concepts that suited the locations, and the customer and companies needs carefully, considering them in my spatial layouts, materials, bespoke pieces, accessibility and more. Sustainability has been something I have had to consider in all of my projects and have learnt the ins and outs of thoroughly.
